My dear Mr. Chief Justice:

Several people have contacted my office inquiring about the formation of the Warren Commission and especially the manner in which certain investigators and consultants have been employed by the Commission.

Would you be kind enough to indicate who selected the various investigators and consultants employed by the Warren Commission and what qualifications were considered in each case? I am certain you realize the person referred to most often is Norman Redlich and the manner in which he was employed as a legal consultant to your Commission.

Your comments would be appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Samuel L. Devine
